Through determination and resilience, you have transformed and grown in many ways during your time at Penn State Berks. Now is the time to believe in yourself and have confidence in your knowledge and abilities.

It has been our privilege to help educate and guide you in preparation for your next adventure, whether it’s beginning your career journey, pursuing entrepreneurial opportunities, or continuing your education. Now, as a new member of another Penn State community, you join more than 750,000 Penn State alumni around the state, nation, and world. I encourage you to remain connected to your Penn State Berks family in some way; we will be excited to hear from you, to welcome you back to the campus, and to learn about your accomplishments.

Thank you for the time you have spent as a member of the Penn State Berks community and for your contributions to the campus. Each and every one of you has made a lasting impression on the college.

Lucine Sihelnik
President and CEO, Greater Reading Chamber Alliance

Lucine Sihelnik, President and CEO of the Greater Reading Chamber Alliance, is a leader in community and economic development and she has spent the last 20 years working to advocate for sustainability in Berks County.

Sihelnik and her husband, Balasios “Saki” Lahaniatis, founded the Great American Creamery, and their business utilizes sustainable practices. It also uses product supplied from Penn State’s Berkey Creamery.

Years ago, Sihelnik started her first small business – a small, organic vegetable farm near Bernville. Later, she led the revitalization and expansion of the Penn Street Market, and served as Food Systems Director to create the Regional Reading Food Policy and Action Council. The council coordinated a number of successful community initiatives under her leadership.

Later, while serving as Berks Agricultural Resource Network’s first female president, Sihelnik was elected to the District 1 seat on Reading’s City Council in 2019/2020. She served as Vice President for two years and most recently as Commissioner of Berks County.

Sihelnik earned a master’s degree from Alvernia University, and currently serves on several boards and volunteers with many community initiatives. She believes that sustainability should and can be applied to every facet of people, planet, and profit.
